MEMORANDUM ACCOMPANYING
ORDER ADJOURNING HEARING INDEFINITELY

After the Commission had set hearing on the referendum petition filed herein, the Commission was advised that there is presently pending before the National Labor Relations Board a proceeding to determine whether the Petitioner herein is, in fact, the collective bargaining representative of the employes of Lakeshore Manor, Inc., the Employer involved in the instant referendum proceeding. The Commission has determined to adjourn the hearing indefinitely on the referendum petition until such time as the National Labor Relations Board makes its determination. Should the latter agency determine that the Petitioner herein is not the collective bargaining representative of said employes, the Commission expects the parties to notify it to that effect and thereupon the Commission will dismiss the referendum petition. On the other hand, should the National Labor Relations Board determine that the Petitioner herein is the collective bargaining representative, it will expect either party to notify the Commission of that determination, and thereupon the Commission will set hearing on the referendum petition.

Dated at Madison, Wisconsin, this 14th day of March, 1974.
