MEMORANDUM ACCOMPANYING FINDINGS OF FACT, CONCLUSIONS OF LAW AND DECLARATORY RULING

As indicated in Finding of Fact 4, the parties seek the Commission's ruling on the extent of the County's obligation to bargain with the Association over the number of classifications and the qualifications which may be attached to said classifications within the Department of Social Services. The County argues that both items relate to permissive subjects of bargaining in that they primarily relate to the formulation or management of public policy. It places substantial reliance upon the Commission's decision in City of Waukesha (Fire Department) 1/ as support for its position. The County also argues that Section 49.50, Stats. and PW-PA10, Wis. Admin. Code should be interpreted as relieving a delegated municipal employer from any obligation to bargain over the subjects at issue herein.

The Association contends that items in dispute relate to mandatory subjects of bargaining in that they primarily relate to the wages, hours and conditions of employment of the employes it represents. It cites City of Waukesha (Fire Department), and City of Madison 2/ as prior Commission decisions which support its position.

In Unified School District of Racine vs. WERC 3/ the Wisconsin Supreme Court set forth the distinction between mandatory and non-mandatory subjects of bargaining in the following manner:

"The question is whether a particular decision is primarily related to the wages, hours and conditions of employment of the employes, or whether it is primarily related to the formulation or management of public policy."

Applying the foregoing standard in other cases involving the number of classifications or positions which will exist, the Commission has consistently held that any proposal which would require that a municipal employer establish or maintain certain positions constitutes a non-mandatory subject of bargaining. 4/ As stated in Milwaukee Board of School Directors we reach that conclusion because

"The shape of its organizational structure so directly influences the ability of a municipal employer to operate so as to carry out its governmental mission that decisions regarding that structure primarily relates to the formulation and management of public policy."

Being satisfied as to the continuing validity of the foregoing, the Commission concludes that the decision regarding the number of classificiations which will exist within the Department of Social Services primarily relates to the formulation or management of public policy and thus is a non-mandatory subject of bargaining. However, the impact of any change in the existing organizational structure on wages, hours and conditions of employment of employes in the unit represented by the Association is a mandatory subject of bargaining. 5/

Turning to question of qualifications, in City of Waukesha (Fire Dept.) the Commission held that while the municipal employer need not bargain over the minimum qualifications needed to hold a position or classification, the selection criteria to be applied when promoting qualified bargaining unit candidates affects promotional or transfer opportunities for unit employes, is primarily related to wages, hours and working conditions, and thus constitutes a mandatory subject of bargaining. This holding remains viable and defines with some specificity the scope of the County's duty to bargain herein. However, there remains the question raised by the County as to whether its bargaining obligation is limited or eliminated by the provisions of Section 49.50, Stats. 6/ and the administrative rules promulgated thereunder.

Sections 49.50(2) and 5, Stats. authorize the delegation to counties of the Department of Health and Social Services' authority to establish and maintain merit based personnel standards for county social service employes. Section 49.50(2) Stats., which has existed in current form since 1953, states "The provisions of this section relating to personnel standards on a merit basis supersede any inconsistent provision of any law relating to county personnel. . . "
The County argues that the foregoing language removes any obligation to bargain which MERA might otherwise impose upon it. The Commission Initially it can be noted that there is little likelihood that when enacting Section 49.50(2) Stats. the Legislature considered the possible impact of collective bargaining upon the establishment of personnel standards inasmuch as MERA was not created until 1971. Furthermore it can well be argued that as the Legislature enacted MERA with full knowledge of preexisting statutory provisions and that as MERA contains no limitation upon a county's duty to bargain over the wages, hours and conditions of employment of its employes, the Legislature did not intend that Section 49.50, Stats., and the administrative rules promulgated thereunder, should create such a limitation. Furthermore, even if one were to assume the applicability of Section 49.50, Stats and HSS 5 to the issues before the Commission, we believe that the "harmonization" process endorsed by the Wisconsin Supreme Court in Glendale Professional Policemen's Association vs. Glendale 7/ can be utilized to give viability to both statutory provisions. As we have been asked in this proceeding to only provide broad guidance to the parties, we find it unnecessary and inappropriate to attempt to precisely define the parameters of such a harmonization.

<sup>49.50</sup> State supervision. (2) RULES AND REGULATIONS, MERIT SYSTEM. The department shall adopt rules and regulations, not in conflict with law, for the efficient administration of aid to families with dependent children in agreement with the requirements for federal aid, including the establishment and maintenance of personnel standards on a merit basis. The provisions of this section relating to personnel standards on a merit basis supersede any inconsistent provisions of any law relating to county personnel, but this subsection shall not be construed to invalidate the provisions of s. 46.22 (6).

<sup>(5)</sup> COUNTY PERSONNEL SYSTEMS. Pursuant to rules established under sub. (2), the department where requested by the county shall delegate to that county, without restriction because of enumeration, any or all of the department's authority under sub.(2) to establish and maintain personnel standards including salary levels.
